Subject: Denali removal of bucket seats and replace with bench

Date: Sat, 23 May 2015 16:55:56 +0000

Attached is from dealer we purchased car from. I also called another dealer yesterday that said the same thing. I plan to bring car to Michael Angelo on Tuesday to ask them as well in addition to obtaining quotes for stereo and lights.

It usually takes 6-8 weeks. No you can not put seats, it is not designed for it. Has to be done in assembly line.

Good morning!

I am glad your boss likes the Denali. Yes you can have bench in the middle. Denali's do come standard with captains chairs. So, I would have to build you one with bench in the middle. Let me know. Thank you!

Received car Thursday and boss loves it. If we wanted to obtain a standard row vs existing bucket seats in 2nd row is it possible. Please advise. Thank you.

You are very welcome! If there is anything I can do to help please let me know. I strive to get completely satisfied survey from all of my customers. I know out of state buyer do sometimes go through a little more hassle. Again, apologize on behalf of our team for the wire transfer issue.

My goal is to make sure this transaction goes as smooth as we planned. If or when you get the survey from GM Motors please make sure you are completely satisfied if not let me know what I can do to make sure you are completely satisfied. Thank you again for your business.

I will look forward to hear from you about your driver and pick up time.

With regards,
Ron
