Ali is recommending using a Boeing factory Seattle test pilot for left seat Test flight , $2500 per day, plus expenses.,

If we get to this point, I think it's a good idea.

Do you want to use Boeing Test pilot ?

Thx
Larry

Larry / William

I have requested the Boeing pilot for the Left seat.

I will keep everyone posted.

Larry please let me know if you are in agreement with this as the test flight requested is better to have a Boeing test pilot performing it.

Dear Alireza,

We do perform such flights on occasion. It will require some paperwork, and while not a quote, I believe it runs about $2500 per day starting from when the pilot leaves Seattle through when he/she returns plus the travel expense.

Let me get with the group that offers these services, and I can get you a quote. Is there a time frame you are looking at for this flight?

Regards,

Mike

Dear Steve,

I hope this note finds you well and you're enjoying your new post.

I need help and advise from you, I am selling YG006 and for FAA Registration we have been requested to perform a Boeing Test Flight D541A015 and Captain William Christophe and I, feel that this would be better accomplished by a Boeing test Pilot in the Left seat.

Can you kindly advise how best to retain the services of such individual?

Thanks, As Ever.
