But according to my Turkish friend, he worked in conjunction with an Italian architect, whose name I don't know but will find out.

Dear Jeffrey,

I managed to visit this house earlier today with a Turkish friend (an architect) who is friendly with the architect who designed it.

I was blown away and I have seen some amazing properties in my life. This unquestionably is one of the most incredible. The gardens are also extraordinary. I have never seen such a high standard of workmanship and detailing. As the architect explained to us, this standard of work can never be repeated as many of the older craftsmen have since died and no one today has their skills. I would change some of the fabrics, improve the lighting but leave the rest untouched.

It has 4 suites in the main house and a further 4 suites in the guest house, which is only partly completed awaiting the directions of the new purchaser. So you will never have room to invite a football team to stay, even if you could invite 300 for dinner and lose them!

However, it's a home which could impress any Head of State. The price at 45m Euros seemed high until I saw it with my own eyes. The photos do nothing for it. It's not remotely flash, far removed from the flashy palaces of Saudi Arabia and the Gulf. This is a home fit for the Duke of Devonshire or a Rothschild. Very sophisticated taste.

We have two options, should you decide to visit. We can go with the registered agent Marc Leon of Christies/Kensington Properties or if you prefer we can do so privately with my Turkish friend.

Let me know your thoughts.

Can't wait to see you!

Mark
