Dear Jeffrey, last year my laptop started giving me problems and James said that it has outlived its life expectancy and he didn't know if I would make it to spring when the new ones will come out. He said something about laptops doing a certain amount of something in their lifetime (rounds or circles or loops or something) and mine had done more.

I now should download Adobe creative suite for my class and laptop can't hold it.

Do you think it would be possible for me to get a new one?

If not I understand :)

Thank you

Come home soon

Xoxo
