It seems that ORANGE will not accept to come and do anything before March 8th.

I should be going to Paris next week and will let you know.

Best regards.

The installation appears to be finished. However after contacting ORANGE, it seems that it's not going to be operational until the very beginning of March and nothing can be done until then.

I will investigate further when I go next to Paris to see if something can be done before then.

Best regards.
