We spoke to a contractor from St. John's that works for another client of mine down there he knows blue water as blue fin he said he was a very good contractor that was our reference

His pricing was very expensive almost double

The contractor in St. John's is a Guy we were considering to bid on LSJ has his own equipment and is the same caliber as blue fin he was not available to meet with us last week

I hope this helps sorry mark is down with flu he sent me a text in the middle of the night and I got this info this am I also called our reference in St. John this am he confirmed marks call
