Mr Epstein I showed the electrician the over head circuit ,In order to wire the transformers for the light fixture from the over head the electrician said he would have to break into the decorative wall on the stair case side .He felt to hide the electrical installation it was better to do it from the opposite side wall of the silk screen in the security room & gift closet oval office and punch only one hole on the stair side behind the silk screen,rather than channel the fake stone decorative wall on the stair case side .

Mr Epstein here is the electrical work proposal and small switching system for the picture light installation. I will schedule the removal of the silk screens with an art hanging company and get a proposal for a new frame to mount the silk screens over the picture light installation after the electrical proposals are approved.
