Attached is Dave Rodgers extra days for 2012 above his 50,000 base pay
Larry has approved his schedule with the only issue of how do we handle [REDACTED] flying days (13,000)
Dave has asked if we can pay in 2012 which would be tax advantageous to him
My calculations are below on the amount owed of 44,500 (which includes 13,000 of [REDACTED] days)
Please advise if ok to pay and if so what amount?

thanks for feedback
please confirm work days are 1000 per day and travel days 500 per day

based on daves sheet figures are as follows

78 work days x 1000 = 78,000

33 travel days x 500 = 16,500

total to be paid = 94,500

less salary paid (50,000)

amount owed = 44,500

history

2011 105,000

2010 97,500

Dave's time sheet looks ok,,its up to you and je regarding [REDACTED] days at 13k extra,.

Hate paying for non productive days, if je agrees to pay him, I have a computer project for him to work to make up the time.

An ipad app for weight and balance for both GII and B727.

FAA requires this, and the app makes it easier for us,.

I'd assign dave to completed this.

Just a thought

Thx

Subject: Dave Rodgers 2012 Work Days

Hi Rich:

There are $13,000 worth of days that [REDACTED] flew trips that I was not present on. These days are noted with a purple font and is included in the totals of work days and airline days. The previous spreadsheet I sent back in October did include these same dates, but was not included in the total of work days and airline days.

My work day were about 19% less this year than last year with only 78 work days in 2012 compared to 96 work days in 2011.

I did not forward a copy to Larry.

Thanks for your advice today about taking the money this year. It was very helpful.

Best Regards,

Dave Rodgers
