Hi Jeffrey,

Great to meet you in the flesh, and thanks for the great brunch and PED talkfest.

Since you asked for it, here's my AdaOnline:

<http://www.ada.auckland.ac.nz/>

and if you want to see the Ladybird Johnson joke and gloss in context, go to Part 1 Chapter 5 in upper left frame, scroll down to 37.30 and read from there to 38.13. Click on <famous women> which will take you to my note; and from there you can click on e.g. Jackie Kennedy and Ladybird Johnson to get to illustrations.

A different scale from the original of life or the mathematics of cancer, I'm afraid!

The artist I particularly like among Aboriginals from the Australian Western Desert are Clifford Possum Tjapaltjarri and Kathleen Petyarre. I tried to send you a number of images but the files were too big and the message got trashed. I'll see if I can send you one of each this time. and the url https://www.google.com/search?tbm=isch&hl=en&source=hp&biw=621&bih=357&q=clifford+possum+tjapaltjarri&gbv=2&oq=clifford+possum&aq=0&aqi=g9g-S1&aql=&gs_l=img.1.0.019j0i24.1369140941016551114114101111012331161917j4j211310.11sin will give you a sense of the range of Clifford Possum's work.

See you tomorrow,
Brian
