Because it's 5k here it will be 10k there.... 50 there and so on it also is generators are going to work floor is going to get installed correctly with a savings Ceramic (that's what your employee told me you wanted on small houses) is going to get installed with a savings
The right Palm trees are going to get installed
The architect and engineers are not going to rip us off
I can go on but I don't want to battle Richard not fair to you or me Forget about who and how many of my clients I have it's about my value to a client not just a project
The lack of knowledge was based on what info your employee was giving me and you never told me
You wanted to change the material you actually told me you wanted what was there and it's not white oak

When I get out of bed I will send the landscape architects info that I have been speaking to

I'm happy to talk after 9am stil in need of landscape architect/ / I have great respect for you and your work. obviously you have many clients . are there too many , ? the lack of knowledge about what floor. what room. who you spoke to. next step and thats only the florr is troubling. . I just received another note from rich asking how to justify spending 35k . to save 5k. on air condittoners. makes sense. I can talk this morning
