This doesn't fit with any travel plans to or from Paris for you does it?

The suggested itinerary seems be insanely tight, ;-p but you can make it to a 3-day trip, since it is on the weekend.

The only conflict will be ML Talk or StudCom Meeting on April 5th afternoon.

JFK to CDG has First Class but there's only one seat left right now, checking on expert flyer.
CDG to BOS has no First Class. You might want to take the one stop option, via JFK for the return, too.
On either way, this AF aircraft has only 4 First Class seats. We need to book it, asap, if you take this offer.

Also, you would end up being away from Boston for a half of April. You will got to TED and to Hawaii.

Please let me know what you think.

Thanks,
Mika

Hi Joi,
not a firm offer just yet, but we have:

April 6, 9:00AM
Paris
Schneider Electric
Annual Innovation Conference
4,000 attendees
$100,000 plus first class travel

The quickest way to make this work would be to fly from BOS-JFK (1:00p- 2:19p) on April 5 and then catch:

4:20 PM	JFK	5:45 AM+1	CDG	AF_023	07:25	Cli ..
---------	-----	-----------	-----	------------------------	-------	-----------

and then a non-stop back to Boston on April 6 (friday) as below

3:15 PM	CDG	5:05 PM	BOS	AF_334	07:50	Cli ..
---------	-----	---------	-----	------------------------	-------	-----------

Any interest in making this happen?
