This (gulp) will be my last query about our contract.

The contract states that I would receive $25,000 in 2017. But I received $20,000.

I appreciated receiving that retroactive $5000 check today.

Also, "The term of this Agreement shall commence on February 1, 2017 and shall expire on January 31, 2018"

Doesn't that mean I should receive a final $5000 check during the month of January 31, 2018?

Oh, well, in any case, below is a couple of placards . . .
