hi jeffrey,

so i did the arches on mechanical building no2..i thought there would be too many arches but not, i think it looks good.

so i did the top side of the building arches and columns and now the painters are going to finish the rest. they know what they have to do,..its easy now and they are good.

the first three pictures i attached here you can see the building.

beside this i did all the touch ups in cabana no 1 and no2, and in the master bedroom.

i did the sample for the cabana no4, bermuda breeze for the room and island sunset for the bathroom.. you can see that, the forth picture in attachments.

the relax room is done too but people still are working in there, they are installing doors, then somebody was working at the windows, and the electricians are still doing things in there, and then some water got down in the corner..so it going to needs some touch ups. the painter who worked with me at the venetian plaster knows now how to do that so i told him after everybody will be out from that room he has to go and do the touch ups. he is good. i told brice about that too.

so i think i am done here.. so i think i can go new york.

if you want i can come next week and discuss about that garden wall in palm beach

thank you,

ion
