? Who is that law firm?

Big deal is we can't get health insurance as individuals and we need. We need an entity to buy a small business. Can make it just that simple.

Or, can use as vessel for other business.

This is money question.

I understand there are advantages for having an LLC/S Corp as opposed to being paid as an individual contractor.

Currently my source of income is a grant from Rockefeller (fellowship). They can make the grant to me as a person or to my LLC. I would like to be sure I maximize my income.

Also need an LLC because

1. Need health insurance and can't get decent as individual in Washington neither can steve. Can get really good ones if we have an LLC/S Corp since we qualify for group. This also means can get Steve's mom on insurance too.
2. Would consider putting other assets or payments to me in here. Or maybe intellectual property or whatever.

Before i rack up legal fees Do you recommend ?

I know you understand this better than I do. Either way I pay taxes on everything just one as a business and one as a single adult female. Seems business tax favorable and I would be conducting business as [REDACTED] md
