Jeffrey, [REDACTED] arrived tonight and the door code on the welcome letter was incorrect. She went downtown and checked into the same hotel Boris is staying in. I am truly sorry she was not able to get in. All I can think is that because the iDisk is down an old letter was generated from my computer. She emailed me and I answered her within 6 minutes with the proper code. I called her, left messages and emailed her again and again. The doormen who know [REDACTED] cell # did not call [REDACTED] and even if [REDACTED] had called the office line I would have answered because I forward the office line to my cell. In the end she is settled and fine at the hotel but I am sick about it. I will check on her tomorrow. [REDACTED]
