Harry has been trying to contact Darren about the $223k you currently owe us. Apparently we have heard nothing--not as to when it will be paid or whether you intend to pay it. You have never complained about the bill and have always been extremely complimentary of the commitment we gave to your case and the quality of our work. I think that after all the hard work we did for you (on an hourly basis because you wanted it that way), you would treat us with greater courtesy. I also thought we would be friends for life, and that at least, I could use you and Darren for references. I still hope so.

Please give me a call so we can discuss this. I don't want to have to initiate arbitration to collect our fee, but our partners are pressing us to do so unless we are promptly paid, or at least given a good reason not to.
