Mr. Lichtman:

As you are aware, my office now serves as counsel to Mr. Epstein in the above-referenced case, and has provided your office with Notice of same. However, all copies of pertinent documentation, including these allegedly agreed-to ex parte Orders, are being sent to Mr. Knight at Fowler, White. Accordingly, please notify your staff to send all documentation to my attention. Likewise, please note that we take issue with the language in the "agreed" Orders, as the entire purpose of our requesting these items is to utilize same in the pending State court case.

Mr. Lichtman:

I am in receipt of the Order regarding participation in and protocols for Scott's deposition and you have left off Jeffrey Epstein in your Bate Stamp Schedule. As you are aware, Judge Cohn granted our motion and we will be participating therein; preferably in the first 2 weeks. Please rectify and add me to your service list so I can comply with same. Thank you.

Ok, but I recall the entire "vacation is sacrosanct" speech you gave to the Judge and the attorneys sitting in the gallery, of which I was one, and I foolishly thought you were sincere.

I did not see anywhere in the Order where it says that all trustee depositions have to go first, and in fact at the hearing I thought Judge Ray specifically said to get everyone's availability and coordinate.

I don't know what to tell you right now. The Trustees cases are going first, all during the first two weeks.
