Jeff. Doc seems ok- if those projects are full time tasks
I think you should reverse the process- like I have the rests set up
After construction
Let's set up a comprehensive schedule of
Exactly what gets done on what day- when your not on the island - for all depts- be a big task
Then a doc when u are there
This way- ur not asking what got done - but. Was IT ALL done / all depts complete all side duty projects for today
Then have special
Weekly + monthly projects-
U up for this??

Ok
Will get danny on dimmers in the morning.
Also we are going to punch out the building tomorrow.

Fire Pit;
I just went up and started it;

- gas flames look OK
- Puts off good heat
- controls are difficult to use to get pilot light going
- Remote control works OK after pilot is lit
- Can show you how to use
- If it is OK I will have Brian run the permanent gas line and build box to hold tank

Conclusion; like the gas, do not like that unit. Suggest we look for a better one with controls that work better.

We have grate for wood burning operation;
It is pretty windy up there and embers will fly. If we want to use real logs we probably need to make a custom mesh cover.
Aaran has wood coming.
