Jeffrey,

The Sante Fe sales guy made an error, the Polaris 550 EPS (power steering) unit is SINGLE cylinder not twin! Msrp $8,700 which we could get for $8000 I'd imagine.

Personally, I'd rather the kawaski 750 EPS units for $8,800 for the power needed to climb the terrain at LSJ,. We have four black Kawaski's in palm beach ready to ship, for the additional $800 I think the kawasaki is better suited for the extra bikes for lsj.

We could order you a new Polaris 850 EPS for VIP use and two Kawasakis for guest use, and BRice and Karen prefer the kawasaki also.

The sante fe sales guy mention electrical issues are common with polaris, so the 550 units may pose problems, and performance challenge for lsj use..

My proposal would be

-One 850 EPS polaris for you,

-four black 750 kawaski's

Two for Brice and two for guests.

Do you agree? Or prefer Polaris 550 single cylinder units,?

I believe the kawasaki shorter wheel base will prove to be more maneuverable for guest use, and they are V-twin units.

Just my thoughts

Thx

Larry
