Attached is the quote for the set of white dishes Francis and I picked out for 71st. The quote is for 12 of each piece excluding the larger serving bowl which we would only order 2. All the pieces we chose are in the first photo below. The pieces with the stripes on it are the charger plates(to have on the table as decoration essentially which the plain plates would be set on top of, and the smaller plate with stripes would be the desert plates, and the large bowl with stripes is the serving bowl)

I did not include a tea pot, cups and saucers and creamer and sugar bowl to this order yet. I have attached some photos of options for these if you like them; some plain white, and some with stripes. Do you like the style of teapot/cups and saucers; if so, which style should we add to the order; stripe or plain white?
