Jeffrey, Rich forwarded to me request to western union 3,000 Euros to Siad Amir that is about $4,000. When i completed my transfer i got a call from Western Union that my transfer is on hold and they need more information about my relationship to the person I am sending cash to:
How do I know Mr Amar (i answered met him on vacation), where is he working, why do I sent him cash(i answered for consulting work), when did I see him last time, how does he contact me, and many more questions that I refused to answer and requested a refund. They refunded cash.

Also, a few days ago when I sent money to [REDACTED] $2600 , Western union stopped the transaction because i missed the call when they try to contact me over the phone for security questions. When [REDACTED] sent me an email that she can't get her money, I called western union and was told that they cancelled the transaction for the security purposes and high value money transfer. I resent the money next day and she received it without any problems.

Please advise how to transfer Siad Amir the money as it appears from the last transfer we have difficulties with Western union and he does't provide a bank account.

Thank you,
Bella
