Dear Mr. Epstein,

It has come to my attention that you might be interested in three rare antique colonial swords that I wish to sell, on behalf of a collector friend.

Two apparently mutual acquaintances here in Santa Fe have suggested I approach you since these swords might just be ideal for Zorro Ranch! (I have attached some photographs, for your information).

The first and second swords are Spanish Colonial era cup hilt rapiers (1750's), and the third is a French Colonial era officer's small sword. This has been verified by auctioneers Bonham and Butterfield, in San Francisco. Indeed, Bonham's is interested in placing the swords at auction. I am however more interested in finding a private collector, at this stage.

I am an actor and writer, originally from London, based in Santa Fe. I have been here for about 18 years. I know a good many people in town. My resume is on my website, if you care to check it out.

After examining the photographs, feel free to contact me by phone or e-mail.

Be assured, sir, that this is a discrete, sincere and authentic inquiry.

Sincerely yours,

Hugh Elliot
