Dear Jeffrey:

We are pleased to report that pre-production for "Radical Breakthroughs" is now complete. Attached is our pre-production 'bible', with sections on each of the 13 episodes (composing a full Closer To Truth season). It is a work in process - nothing is set in cement; much will change during the long production process - from initial contacts with prospective participants to restructuring regularly and iteratively.

We will work so that these important ideas are presented with intellectual rigor - to be an accurate assessment of contemporary state-of-the-art thinking - and with visual creativity - to engage a broad audience of interested viewers and visitors.

We would appreciate your input - additions, critiques, suggestions.

We are excited about the series, content/ideas and broadcast/distribution, and we look forward to beginning production.

Best regards,

Robert
