?? - Just checking in to see if I should make plans.

We are getting close to being booked on another project. I'll be in Miami the week after working on the cities blockchain project.

Hope all is well,

-Austin

Hi Jeffrey,

Saw this post about the situation in Saudi Arabia and thought of our conversation, interesting to see how reform is being adujacted.

I'm also trying to make some plans and wanted to know if you wanted to discuss next steps on your project.

I've tentatively scoped out Michael Casey to potentially meet with us the weekend of Dec 1-3 if your in New York and would like to do a follow up session with him.

I'd also like to arrange a quick video call to talk about the scope, timing and roles for people in this project.

I can assemble the right blockchain architects, engineers and cryptographers to map out and eventually build a system that could be deployed but want to get an idea from you about the timeframes, budget and requirements for moving this from brainstorming to an actual project.

So are you good to meet with Michael, Catherine and I that weekend in New York? and are you available for a quick video chat about project scope?
