

From: Steven Sinofsky <[REDACTED]>

To: Jeffrey Epstein <jeevacation@gmail.com>

Subject: Fw: D11 Media List & TV Interview Guidelines - Sinofsky

Date: Tue, 14 May 2013 00:09:12 +0000

Importance: Normal

Attachments: D11_Media_List_051313_CONFIDENTIAL.pdf

reporters at the conference end of the month...

Sent from Surface RT

Check out <http://blog.learningbyshipping.com>

From: Megan Holm

Sent: Monday, May 13, 2013 7:55 PM

To: [REDACTED]

Cc: [REDACTED]

Dear Steven,

As promised in your sponsor contract, please find attached the list of media registered to attend D11.

While the list is a who's-who of editors, reporters, bureau chiefs and columnists - as participants in D, we treat the media like any other attendee. For that reason we ask that you do not contact them in advance, but instead take advantage of the networking opportunities on-site to schedule your interviews.

Additionally, please note, it is our policy at D, out of respect to our presenters on stage, that interviews and other meetings not be scheduled during session hours, but during breaks, lunch, and other unscheduled program time. We hope you will join us in extending that courtesy to our speakers and demonstrators.

I'd also like to take this time to inform you of the TV interview guidelines during the event.

This year, TV crews from Fox Business News, CNBC and CNN will be covering D11.

As in past years, we will not permit live TV cameras in the Palos Verdes Ballroom, Palos Verdes Ballroom Pre-Function, or adjacent hallways. Instead we have provided all camera crews with access to separate rooms and/or terrace areas, where they can set up and shoot live interviews.

We do not facilitate these interviews, and have instructed the media outlets to contact you and your PR representative directly with interview requests. There is, of course, no obligation to participate in these live interviews.

We hope these guidelines will continue to provide our speakers and guests with an enjoyable experience throughout the conference.

Look forward to seeing you at D11!

Thanks,
- Megan

