The newest "development". From Max, and further below, from Deborah.

It seems to me that gathering information from Bainco is just adding an intermediary that would not have legal responsibility to respond about the trusts and the transactions that were made, therefore bearing no liability, opening room for mistakes and misleading information. The accounting of the trusts has to come from Max. Am I correct?

Good morning Deborah and Noam –

I'll be glad to provide whatever additional detail I can about the distributions. I know we have some detail in the reports we received from Bainco, which I should be able to collect in a day or so. Once you review that we can dig deeper if you wish.

Thanks,

Max

Noam,

Any costs associated with the accounts will be borne by the trusts and not by you personally. As a first step it may be easier for Max to specify which account the distributions to you were deposited in to and on what dates. Max could you please send us a schedule.

Thanks,

Deborah

I received some information from Deborah that you sent to her about the accounting of the marital trusts. It is quite puzzling. It refers to distributions to and on behalf of me. I am unaware of any distributions "to" me, nor "on behalf of" me. And there is no indication of to whom the distributions were made and who might have authorized them.

Can we obtain a complete accounting of the trusts without any further delay, each account statement for the past four years. I will pay to have them scanned or copied

Noam
