Hi Steven,

Happy 4th of July. I hope this finds you well. I am currently on a family history tour in Germany and France with two of my children and am finding reading old church records quite fascinating. The biggest challenge is reading the old handwritten script which causes H's to look like G's, L's to look like S's, and so forth. However, when you do find the birth record of your father and aunt, it is quite exciting :-)

On the Learning by Shipping front, I wanted to check in with you to say that your suggestion of taking Tizen out of the mix has finally found fruit. Thus, from JK Shin, I wanted to see if you would have an interest in discussing the role you had suggested at our last meeting of being JK's Software advisor and taking any responsibility for Tizen off the table. Given the passage of time as we had discussed at our last call, I know that you have many other projects in the pipeline. However, if you would have an interest in working with Samsung, JK Shin and Kevin Won would be most interested in trying to construct a role that you would find interesting.

Thank you again for all your ideas and input.

I look forward to your thoughts.

Warmest regards,

Reynold
