I need to show money in the bank & more income than just what's necessary to support one person. All I need from you to be able to move forward and come up with all other paperwork is a wire transfer.

I talked to my lawyer and I need to really get the application ready asap. 100k should be ok to satisfy the requirement that the E-2 enterprise generate income substantially above what would be considered a living. They also want evidence that the E-2 investor has other sources of income (income from real estate properties, investments etc.), which could have been wired to a bank account in Slovakia.
