Hi Christina,

The .NET has been purchased. I will send an expense to Richard more formally but wanted to let you know. I have a few templates I've been looking at for the site, and look forward to discussing content later today.

We should be able to get this built and filled with content over the next week or two.

We're also working on 2 new URLs - promoting new images, and attempting to take any images down we do not like (Business Insider, I have sent a request).

Chat soon...

Best,

Tyler
