Dear Jeffrey,

I strongly apologize if I disappointed you. I really try to listen to every single your suggestion and advice. I know that they are extremely precious and valuable and I'm really honored to hear them from such a unique, intelligent and special person like you. I appreciate every single advice you give me and all the time thinking about how to use them. I believe in you and everything you teach me.

I really apologize if I disappointed you. I know there cannot be any excuses I didn't answer you and I'm very sorry.

I appreciate very much everything you did for me.

I think the time has come for you to find another place to live. no rush, no stress. but lets say by the end of january. I will also give you some money to make the transition easier You have repeatedly ignored the advice i gave you about what was important . you are of course free to ignore.it. as i have said on multiple occasions . my very strong view is that a successful future for you does not depend on playing one more classical music piece that has been played hundreds of times in hundreds of locations by hundreds of different people. I respect your stubbornness .. as it has done you well to date, however, it pains me to see you on your way to teaching violin classes to children in lithuainia,

Good morning Jeffrey,
I didn't receive an email three days ago- did you send it? I just received the one you sent me Friday night...
I'm very sorry I didn't answer you but my boyfriend just came and there were many problems with his delayed flight...

I hope you liked the Christmas present! I'm sorry I couldn't come with my sister but I was at school for my last final exam..
