OK.. I will make changes.. will let you know.. if it is not much, I will cover it.. no worries.. Re Nov.. we are moving Nov 4th from Australia.. it is a huge hassle, but we are proceeding.. hardest part is transporting the cat. Anyway, I had a crazy and self-serving idea. Would you like to come to OZ in your plane Nov 1, visit some things here, and we could visit the amazing art museum in Hobart on Nov 2-3 and then travel back together on the 4th? Probably insane, and I don't know if your plane can fly that far.... as i said it is totally self serving because it would allow us to have the cat in the cabin instead of paying tons of money to put it, for 17 hours, in the hold of a plane without food or water..

anyway, assuming that is not possible, we will be in portland getting settled nov 5th on (I have to go to mexico that day to lecture till the 8th).. after that we are settling, but I don't want to leave nancy with too much to do on her own.. so maybe by end of nov it might be feasible.
