Dear Mr. Epstein,

As our year comes to a close, we wanted to send a note of appreciation for your support. Your gift to MRA is critical in achieving our mission of ending suffering and death for melanoma patients across the globe.

Attached is a project report. The report presents a brief synopsis of the research you are funding. We realize these reports can often be quite technical, so if you are interested in a conversation about the implications of the research you supported, the state of melanoma research overall, or any other aspect of MRA's work, please feel free to reach out to me (contact information below), to Kristen Mueller, MRA Scientific Program Director at [REDACTED] or to any of our staff here at MRA.

MRA is quite proud of not only the advances in melanoma treatment we have spurred on through funded research, but also, the substantial impact those advances are having on treating dozens of other cancers as well. Thank you again for your dedication to MRA and making this research possible.

Best wishes for a happy and healthy New Year.

Joan
