Hi Jeffrey,

I just spoke to Alan and he told me you and he agreed to go with the two-tiered structure that Alan and I worked out last week and over the weekend. I will map it out for the rest of the team but need to clarify:

As I understand your discussion with Alan, Leon's initial contribution to the new entity (let's call it Narrows III to get the benefit of a series of art entities called Narrows) will consist of only non-collateralized art? Once Narrows III is set up and Leon and the trusts have contributed their interests, the plan it to then go to BAC to tell them that Leon wants to distribute the collateralized art still in Narrows I to Narrows III and to replace the guaranty and pledge of the art by Narrows I with his personal guaranty and a pledge of his non-managing member interests in Narrows III.

Is that correct?
