> AdFin aims to become the industry's definitive source for programmatic media intelligence and price verification. The company is founded on the belief that markets thrive with greater access to information...and programmatic media is no different. As our name implies, we have developed a platform that integrates advertising and finance, advancing efficiency and bringing financial-style trading intelligence to the programmatic media markets. The result.. advertisers spend smarter, publishers price smarter, and outside players (e.g., financial analysts) participate smarter. And we believe this participation can extend to the development of derivative offerings and new ways to trade, invest and hedge risk in the advertising markets. The tangible benefits to ad buyers and sellers include:

- > * Price Verification: verify whether prices paid are “fair”, in line with market
- > * Benchmark Performance: Evaluate buys/sells/trades vs. internal and external benchmarks
- > * Identify optimal demand and supply partners and direct deal opportunities
