

From: "jeffrey E." <jeevacation@gmail.com>
To: JAMES MILLER <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Re: 2130 Update
Date: Sat, 20 Dec 2014 03:02:09 +0000 weather planning ie turbulence and cabin altitutde . careful

On Fri, Dec 19, 2014 at 1:56 PM, JAMES MILLER <[REDACTED]> wrote:

Sultan is sleeping comfortably now. They have him in the ICU on a downward sloping hospital bed fitted with a standard cervical collar.

He is scheduled for morning lab work but otherwise nothing will happen until 1PM when the transport medical team will arrive to prepare then take him to DWC airport for the flight departing 2:45PM.

Expected arrival time Hamburg is 8:45PM local.

He will be transported and admitted to;

BG Trauma Hospital Hamburg
Mountains Strasse 10
21033 Hamburg
[REDACTED]

Abdulla bin Sulayem will fly up in advance on Emirates and be there at the hospital before we arrive.

I will try to keep you updated along the way and certainly after we arrive at the hospital and get an accurate assessment of his condition . I have been close to him all day and have still not been able get the MRI data or the extent of the damage to the vertebrae as he was - as usual - managing his own condition with the local doctors. He seems to be convinced surgery is in order and while he may be right I have not seen the evidence as of yet.

Best,
Jim
[REDACTED]

--

please note

The information contained in this communication is confidential, may be attorney-client privileged, may constitute inside information, and is intended only for the use of the addressee. It is the property of JEE

Unauthorized use, disclosure or copying of this communication or any part thereof is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful. If you have received this communication in error, please notify us immediately by return e-mail or by e-mail to jeevacation@gmail.com, and destroy this communication and all copies thereof, including all attachments. copyright -all rights reserved