[REDACTED] hand delivered the attached property maintenance update yesterday. She asked about the approval of the paint colors since it will take three weeks to get the paint. I told her that you wanted to see the colors in person. I asked [REDACTED] about the signage of some of the tenants and she said that she was working on it but that people in the stateside office liked the "funkiness" of having different signs rather than uniform signs.

With warm regards,
