Jeffrey

I have seen the airlines issuing travel advisories a couple of days in advance to cover themselves for Weather Delays recently,

My satellite picture doesn't paint extreme weather fronts moving thru PBI or LGA, only typical late afternoon thunderstorms, which could affect inbound or outbound airline to/from PBI-NY area airports, there is a cluster of Wx by Pittsburgh moving east bound that could affect LaGuardia Sunday, does travel would be in the morning. LaGuardia is only forecasting 60% afternoon thunderstorms, and PBI is showing 40% afternoon thunderstorm activity,

It's only a guess, but late afternoon travel on Sunday could pose airline delays, But in my opinion I think they should be OK,, with slight delays,

Hope this helps

Thx
Larry
