Mr Epstein,

Ken has 4 of the pieces cut so far along with the fronts (additional 4) . He has had trouble with his saw speed but talked to the manufacturer this morning and is getting better results now after slowing the blade. He is scheduled for 8 am Sunday to start the installs and that will mean he should be done Thursday. If we have issues we have a backup plan of Home depot vanities with a wood counter top painted white. This is our worst case scenario and after Sunday (I will be standing over him all day) we will know if Ken will preform.
