You didn't want to do anything for me anyways if I kept working till October except for my rent which I appreciate. What would have been my reward ? I tried hard for 10months, experiencing a really tough time. I remember I couldn't even buy myself a computer to work and you told me go buy a used one for $200!! In 5 months my boyfriend changed my life, bought me an apartment, a car, school, trips, plenty of gifts made my dreams come true and did more than anyone else has ever did for me. [REDACTED] not asking you anything, I was just trying to be kind and wanted to know how you were doing as I told you I missed you as a friend since you've been part of my life. That's it
