I have been thinking of you for days and apologize for not writing sooner.

The good news is we are in the middle of awards season frenzy before some of Hollywood heads for Christmas vacation on Dec. 21st. to Jan. 2nd. Business is very good.

We are living in very weird political and social times and technology has become a weapon of accusation, punishment and righteousness.

This is not going to get any better. In Hollywood men's lives are completely destroyed because celebrity is held to a higher standard. I am not defending wrong doing....just can't understand why there is no legal second act of redemption.

I have to get ready for an 8:00am plane from L.A. to NYC right now and will write more later.

I told you a few years ago to be the poster boy for making amends. I suggested inventing a support system to aid disadvantaged young women. I do not know if this too late.....but this self inflicted nightmare is not going away. You need to own a recovery program. No one has the guts to do this. It has to start somewhere. Education is your roots from math at Dalton. These young girls need help to learn how to make a living and not by prey to men.

I will email more and call later.
xoxo Peggy
