I'd just add from my perspective that she was giddy, euphoric about the idea of a savior in her life, that's why she's inclined to follow his lead but the history of their relationship shows that he's likely to again keep the dangling the carrot and I'd just wait a little until she calms down and becomes a little more grounded. But I felt quite disappointed and was assuming you'd be too because I thought she might be a good candidate for you (Russian, well read, humble, ballerina, other qualities that you appreciate etc.) That's why I apologized for the waste of time. However if you still are willing to meet we'll do it.

I said that we'll go get her an outfit for the interview at the admissions. She was very grateful and humble. Then when I came home she thanked you again but said she no longer feels comfortable about asking for your help because she spoke to the guy and he said he's going to stop the struggle — pay her bills etc. I said that it'd be great if she meets you in person when you're in NY to say thank you for your kindness and she concurred but said that since Guerman is likely to have control over her life she no longer can apply for working for you and understands that you might feel disappointed in her. I said that if Jeffrey will have the time she should come over and say thank you in person for he was very kind to her. She said yes but she's uncomfortable etc, I said we can go meet Jeffrey together when am back if that's better for her and if Jeffrey is willing to make the time for her in his schedule for he's a very busy man.

I'm so deeply grateful for your help and advice and really wanted for you to meet her. Not sure what a person who loved the idea of her going to the army can contribute to her life but will be glad if I'm mistaken.

Thank you again, so much for being so kind and am sorry for wasting your time.
