START from SCRATCH. !!! again. not worth it. hire experienced professionals!! not juniors from firms that were already passed over. . two levels at least above each person currently there. I have 3 former head of IRS divisions . years of experience with real life. people that thoroughly know the code and procedures. . (you wanted to pay only 250k . you gave me a choice between Joslin and a bookkeeper, now described as me choosing joslin) New players , like S and C , (still have not one persons actual name , just title of firm as this seems to lend psychological weight to ridiculous assertions). have no knowledge of whole or facts and circumstances of past. LEON. you don't need this aggravation. . your biz is humming, things are good. you are surrounding yourself with liability. . I cant say it any stronger. . talking to your office is like teaching a freshman physics class. everyone thinks they have designed the perpetual motion machine. . Children playing . sloppy , believing their own bullshit. . the reviews from people that come out of meeting in your office is always the same. . WHAT IS HE THINKING !!!
