Greetings Sir, the boat is quite worn it used to be a St barts ferry, It hasn't been used since irma, were it sustained minor damage was repaired but never inspected for passenger transport again. The vessel seems structurally sound the engines are commercial Luggers 460 hp a piece and are conected to jet drives. Which i dont know with our seaweed issues this could be a problem. The vessel is 62 foot long was manufactured in 93, and has had only one owner, it comes with a spare motor and quite a few parts. The vessel needs some attention to cosmetics but it can be brought back. Im working on getting info about hamilton jet drives and who would service them in the vi.

Thank you
Carlos
