The rain is supposed to begin between 2:00 a.m. and 3 a.m. Whether we leave a 7:00 a.m. or 11:00 a.m. there might not be a lot of difference. According to Miami Flight Service Station, by 2:00 p.m. tomorrow afternoon the system is supposed to be on the west coast of Florida. Maybe later in the day would be better than earlier. By 10:00 p.m. tomorrow night the weather should be gone according to Flight Service.

If possible, you might want to leave earlier than 11am,, Depends upon the weather and movement of a cyclone 11 coming across the Bahamas,, Best decision should be made early in the morning, in my opinion

I change my airline flight to depart at 7am tomorrow

Just heads up,,
Dave is aware and will monitor

Thx
