Suggested email to these people. Suggestions?

To: Deborah Clarke, Vice Provost for Academic Personnel
Michael, Crow, President
Michael Searle, Provost

I have several questions regarding the appeal process and conciliation committee process and would greatly appreciate an answer to the following

1. I assume that Dr Thompson as the plaintiff, will be represented . do we know by who.?
2. How broad and or binding are the recommendations of the conciliation committee.
3. I have selected Prof. Kimberley Marshall as my nominee for the Committee. She is willing to serve, and understands the requirements. I have not discussed the case with her.
4. I will be lecturing in Mexico from Sept 10-12 , so I would appreciate an alternative date for the meeting.
5. I am currently on paid leave, and I live in Portland Oregon and commute to ASU. I was informed by the Dean that as this is not a disciplinary procedure , I could come in to the office to get materials . I was surprised to find that all of my ASU accts are frozen. I have had to pay out of my own pocket for things like web maintenance, materials and supplies etc, and to fly down on two different occasions to meet with the OEI investigators. I would like to ask if my research accounts can be unfrozen so that I might be able to access them for my research materials, and also use the account that was set up to allow my travel to ASU in order to purchase air tickets to meet the committee whenever such a meeting is scheduled.

6. New evidence relevant to the OEI investigation has arisen. Some of this was contained in my appeal letter to President Crow. There is new evidence relevant to the allegation regarding Melbourne Australia. I am including the emails I sent to OEI in this regard with this letter. I would hope that OEI will revise their determination based on this new information. If they do, will this affect the process? Either way, would it be appropriate to include these emails to OEI along with my appeal letter for the Conciliation Committee?

Thanks for your timely response

Lawrence Krauss

I will attach the two recent emails to OEI..
