I have reviewed again your last email that presents pen drawings of current roads. as is . labels on locations that currently exist. and bubble diagrams with images taken from the internet. Though you clearly state that in your view your contract obligations are complete. I hope you understand that your pronouncement does not make it so. I have computer drawings with houses that have rooms that hang over the ocean . proposed detailed layouts that were presented , not in draft form as asked but on computer drawings that bore no semblance of program. . you have spent a great deal of time and I have spent both time and money. I think you can either deliver what was agreed, my first choice. return all monies. not my choice but I have nothing of value at all . or propose a solution thx
