life between zero and 1

the axioms of miracles. leibniz, gödel, von neumann, turing, . . . newton. heisenberg
. not open to perception as we know it. the dark matter of the mind.
we know its there but cant see it, measure it, mathematize it. but we feel it, intuit it, respond to it.

its women science. larry summers was right women are not good at mathematics they are good at miracles.
giving birth for example.
sensing the mood, creating the environment incompleteness, no computability, np complete. . . consciousness optical illusions cant see the truth truth is a mathematical concept, no more no less. it does not apply to the world of miracles they cant be proven, symmetry dictates two realms. algorithmic and non algorithmic
