There's still time to join us

Ci2019 is only 3 days away, but don't worry – you still have time to secure your place. Join us in Melbourne and prepare for the rapid acceleration of technology that's propelling our society into the unknown and unprecedented.

Program

Who will you listen to?

Ci2019 is welcoming its most exciting calibre and range of speakers yet, with over 50 innovators and futurists taking to the stage including:

- Ray Kurzweil; Google's Director of Engineering
- Paul Cobban; DBS' Chief Data & Transformation Officer
- Dr Alan Finkel AO; Australia's Chief Scientist
- Lord Adair Turner; Chair of the Energy Transition Commission
- Professor Kathleen Richardson, Professor of Ethics and Culture of Robots and AI at De Montfort University
- Emma Martinho-Truswell, Co-founder & COO of Oxford Insights

What will you learn?

By attending Ci2019, you will put yourself in the strongest position to harness the opportunities of technology, and anticipate the exponential change and disruptions coming to your industry. You will:

- Gain insights, mindsets and techniques for unlocking personal and organisational creativity to prepare for our changing world.
- Learn strategies and processes for creating greater organisational performance, agility, productivity and wellbeing.
- Explore the world's best practice solutions for the development of sustainable futures for community, business and government.

Who will you join?

Over 800 leaders from across Australia and beyond have already secured their place from business, government, academia, community, not-for-profits, media and the arts. Organisations attending include:
