Dear Jee

What is important to you this year? How are you improving your mindset, creativity and focus to achieve your dreams?

2018 was a very special year for me because I spent one on one time with Ram Dass in Hawaii and presented a major keynote at the Thinkers50 European Business Forum in Denmark with some of the world's leading business management thinkers.

Thinkers50 wrote: "Tania brings her own special magic to an event. She combines valuable insights with a fantastic singing voice – a truly unique experience. She electrified the 2018 European Business Forum."

I then performed and spoke in Vienna for the launch of a book at the Australian High Commission about families who had escaped the Nazi regime and created new lives in Australia. Many of you will know that my grandparents were famous artists and that my grandmother invented the foldable umbrella in Vienna in 1929. My mother was just 3 months old when they managed to escape! Following the launch of my mother's book Driftwood last year, we are developing a music theatre work to bring this incredible story of survival and creativity to the stage.

I was very honored to have been named in the 100 Women of Influence and the 100 Most Influential Entrepreneurs in Australia! We also celebrated the 10th Anniversary of Creativity Australia and the With One Voice programs.

This year holds a number of exciting challenges and opportunities including:

- The launch of new charity Mind Medicine Australia with a major keynote by Professor David Nutt (UK). I have established MMA with my husband Peter Hunt AM. This is the fifth charity we have founded between us and the first truly joint project.

- Creative Innovation 2019 Asia Pacific Human Intelligence 2.0 – A Collective Future? How will we manage the transition? which takes place 1-3 April in Melbourne and featuring over 40 global leaders and innovators
- Presenting at the International Forum on Consciousness in the USA

New keynote speech topics

I am stepping up my thinking on how we manage and prepare for rapid change and increasing uncertainty, and develop the creative, agile and entrepreneurial mindsets to navigate uncharted terrain. I have developed some new keynote topics including:

Human Intelligence

How to manage change in an era of disruption and build a collective future?

It is no ordinary time in the history of civilisation. The world is moving faster than we can think, so we have to change our thinking!

The transformation upon us means at least three things...Fear, change and opportunity. What if you could fast-track your thinking about change and the future? As the pace of change accelerates, we are increasingly asking individuals and organisations to become more agile. How can organisations develop creative, inclusive, resilient and innovative cultures and develop the agility required to manage and prepare for a rapidly changing world?

I look forward to collaborating with you on some of your conferences, dinners and other special events in 2019 and beyond.

In the meantime, I invite you to listen to my recent interview on ABC Radio with Jennie Lenman.
