Are U.S. sanctions having an impact on Iran?

Prior to President Donald Trump's decision to withdraw from the Iran nuclear deal (JCPOA), critics argued that U.S. sanctions against Iran would not be effective unless the other signatories to the agreement went along. Doomsayers said unilateral sanctions would not hurt Iran because other countries would work around them. While the critics were correct in predicting no other country would join the U.S. in reimposing sanctions (ignoring punitive measures EU countries took following attempted Iranian terror attacks on their soil), they were wrong about the impact of American sanctions.

"Teflon Antisemites" by Mitchell Bard

Antisemites don't get to determine who or what is antisemitic.

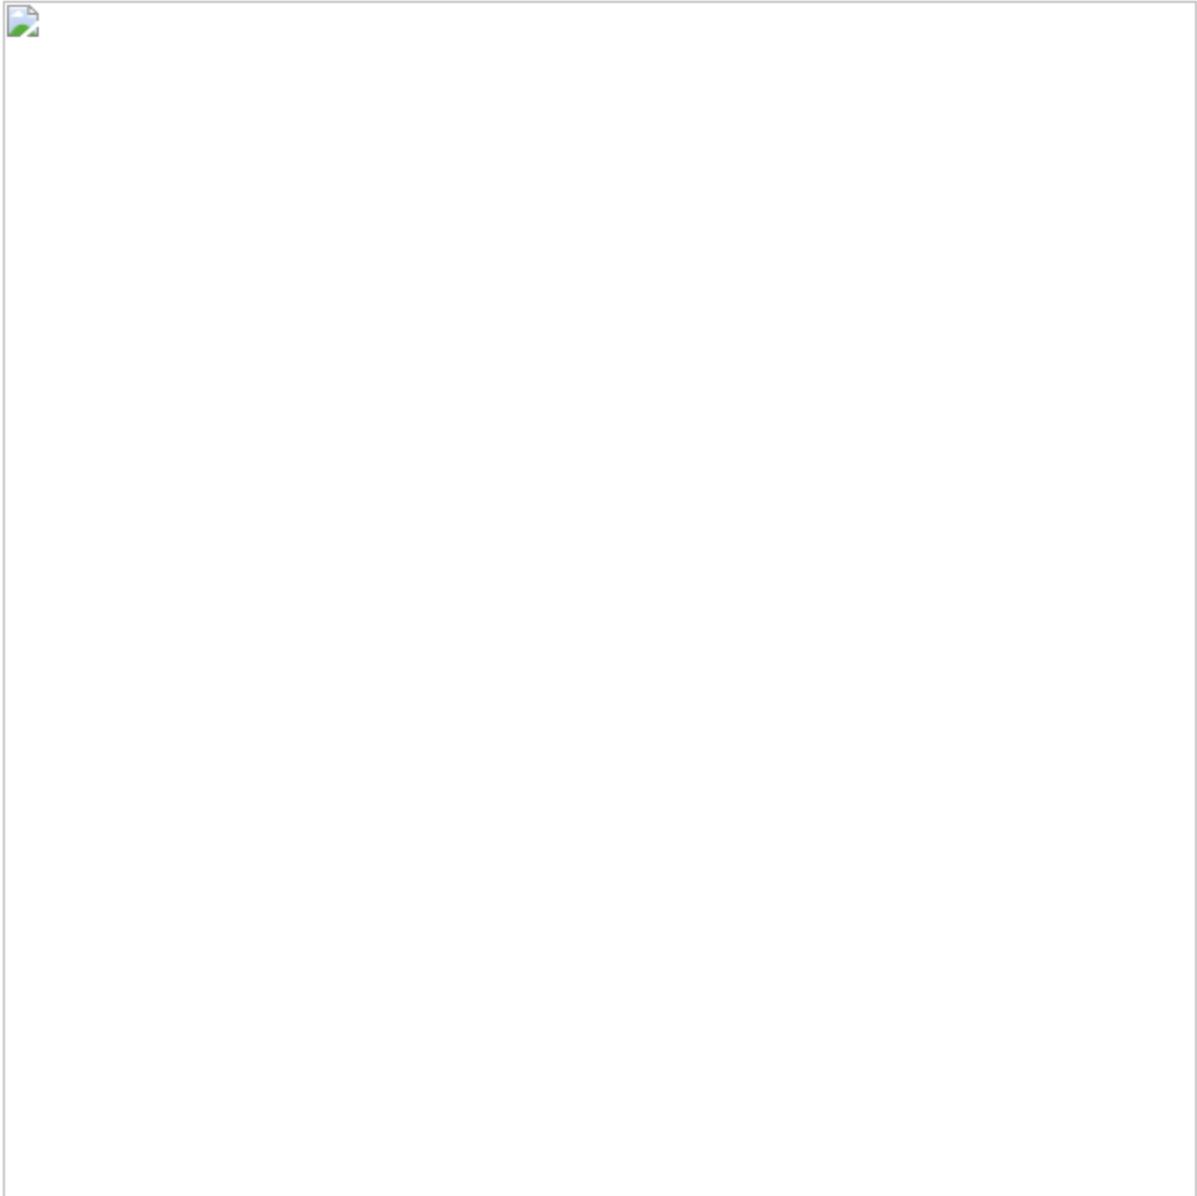

Suggesting that Jews have dual loyalty to Israel, that members of Congress are beholden to Israel and Jewish donors, that AIPAC bribes politicians to support Israel, or that "Israel has hypnotized the world" is antisemitic.

Supporting the BDS campaign, which seeks to destroy Israel and deny the Jewish people the same right to self-determination claimed for the Palestinians, is antisemitic.

Pope Pius XII & the Holocaust

Pope Pius XII's actions during the Holocaust remain controversial. After decades of Jewish groups and historians asking the Vatican to open its archives to allow them to see all the documents related to the pope and the Holocaust, Pope Francis announced on March 3, 2019, that they would be made accessible in March 2020.

Elections to the 21st Knesset

On December 24, 2018, Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu called for early elections, which are scheduled to take place on April 9, 2019.

The main reason was the likely collapse of the government because of the opposition of religious parties in his coalition to a Supreme Court decision that required the government to formulate a plan for the conscription of ultra-Orthodox Jews currently exempt from army service.
